

BIOWIRE

Created by Jessica
Meades and Prarthna
Barot (UEA iGEM)

The Ultimate Energy Avenger

Captain Shewanella

Look at him! He's so small and weak, won't last a second in the army...

Despite his small size a bacteria called Shewie bravely signed up for the army, but he looked different and was never respected by the other bacteria.

But Shewie was brave and selfless and volunteered to be made into a super bacteria capable of producing enhanced levels of hydrogen.

Meanwhile...the experiment is underway, shewie's peculiar red skin protects him from the high hydrogenase overexpression due to the precious iron hemes found within him...
The red skin that made shewie different has saved his life!

The experiment has worked! Shewie wakes disorientated in a strange room. Feeling confused and unsure to his new modified body he explores the hospital...

What the.. I need to get out of here!

With nobody in sight shewie flees the hospital but suddenly begins to uncontrollably express hydrogen gas fuelled by the energy from the sun!!

..and so Shewie has just to step outside to lose control of his new power!
Later that day, destruction is left in his path...with a heavy heart Shewie goes to the only one that can help...

With time Shewie discovers that he must control his power and use it for good! So that one day the world will run on hydrogen fuel.

After making his new costume, Shewie becomes Captain shewanella! The energy avenger and challenges the evil Fossil-fuel Rex to a fight!

Cap acts quickly to defeat the fossil fuel fiend for good...

20 years later Captain shewanella's legacy lives on as the bacteria that freed the world from its reliance on fossil fuels to replace it with a world run on hydrogen fuel! All powered by renewable energy sources.

The End